I.      Opening of the meeting

The Chairman called the meeting to order.

II.     Invocation

A moment of silence meditation was taken.

III.    Roll Call

A silent roll call was taken by staff.

IV.    Old Business

A request has been made by Anne and Matthew Willard for a Certificate of Appropriateness to demolish the structure located at 324 East 2nd Street because of the cost of renovation.

John Rodman came forward. He provided the Commission with the section of the General Statutes that deals with demolition of historic properties. He explained that if someone comes and requests demolition, the Commission cannot delay that request unless it is a designated land mark. He stated that the Commission can delay that demolition for 365 days. Mr. Rodman also presented the Commission with a section from the Handbook for Historic Preservation Commissions of North Carolina, which stated that they do have the right to delay the demolition and states very clearly what is supposed to happen if the Commission delays that demolition.

He explained that as a Commission they have certain obligations that they need to fulfill. Mr. Rodman then explained that the Commission can also waive that 365 day delay and grant demolition. He then explained how the Commission can waive the delay. Mr. Rodman stated that if the Commission felt 365 days is more than enough time for the Commission to seek some alternatives, then the Commission can grant a reduction in that 365 days. He explained that if the Commission does decide to delay the demolition then during the delay period the Commission must negotiate with the owner and others to try and find a way to preserve the property and such efforts should begin immediately. He stated that the commission must define some steps which they would like to do in order to find some alternatives to demolition.

Anne and Matthew Willard came forward and were sworn in. Ms. Willard stated that she reviewed the minutes from the last meeting and there seemed to be some unanswered questions because they were not present. Ms. Willard then explained how they came to the decision to demolish the property and even to purchase it to begin with. Ms. Willard stated that none of the Commission members have toured the most critical elements of the house such as the roof and the foundation, so they have asked Dr. Jim Coke to talk about the structure specifically, on their behalf. She explained that they intend to demolish the structure and they feel it is in the best interest of the historic district. She stated that as they understand the Commission's role in preservation, it is to preserve the character of the historic district and not necessarily a specific structure. She stated that the area is enhanced by historic homes that are well maintained, however dilapidated properties serve no purpose; they only detract from the district. Ms. Willard stated that houses that are allowed to deteriorate are a shame, but there is nothing they can do at this point in their vision to save this particular property. Ms. Willard stated that they live in a community that has been there long before any of them and will be there long after, so what is new today will be old tomorrow. She stated that she hoped after the presentation the Commission will agree that demolish is in the best interest of the historic district.

Ms. Willard then gave a review of their history with the property. She stated that they purchased the adjacent property (318 East 2nd Street) in 1999 and at that time they decided they did not want to live next to a house that had peeling paint and over grown bushes. She explained that Matthew Willard painted the house at 324 E 2nd Street at their expense and trimmed all the bushes, to give at least the appearance of a maintained property. Ms. Willard stated that they continued to do this for a long time and currently their lawn care person mows the grass there so it does not seem to be in as bad a shape as it is. Ms. Willard stated that she felt this is why many people feel the house is restorable, but what they do not understand is the structure and some of the condition. Ms. Willard stated that in 2003 they let the owner of the property at 324 E 2nd Street know that they were interested in buying the property, but they were not interested in selling. Then in 2005 she stated that they decided to make a firm offer and again the previous owner did not except the offer. She stated that at this point they had not been inside the house and they did not know the condition of the house. At that point Ms. Willard explained that they had intended on rehabbing the property, but those plans have obviously changed. Ms. Willard stated that looks can be deceiving and they didn't want someone to come in and turn it into rental units and make it simply livable. She stated that they didn't want to live next door to that, so they were still interested in purchasing the property up to 2012. Ms. Willard stated that they were approached by the previous owner in September 2012 to see if they were still interested in purchasing the property and they said yes. Ms. Willard explained that they still hadn't been in the house and to their knowledge no one had. She stated that they decided in October 2012 to get the property appraised and that appraisal was summited at the last meeting. She then outlined some of the conditions listed in that appraisal.

Ms. Willard stated that the roof is a big concern of theirs and they feel it presents a safety hazard to the adjacent property owners and to people. Ms. Willard then questioned what they would be preserving if the house stayed. The roof would be new, the foundation would be new, and all major features of the house would be new. She stated that the house would basically be new except for some doors, molding, and floorboards. She stated that frankly that was not enough to justify the cost to save the house. Ms. Willard explained that they are not investors; they are home owners that just want to maintain their property. She explained that they are not in the position to invest in the house and hope to make it back. And with that and the condition of the house they came to the conclusion that demolition is in the best interest for them and the historic district.

Ms. Clark asked if they purchased the property in 2012 with the purpose of tearing it down. Ms. Willard stated that at that point they had not been in the house and it wasn't until they got the appraisal that they realized the house was in bad shape. She stated that they did have the idea of preserving the area; they did not want someone to come in and put up a simple structure. She explained that they purchased a renovated home in 1999 and since then they have had to replace numerous areas of the structure, so they know the kind of workmanship that can go into a home to make it look good. Ms. Clark then asked if the Willards had any type of inspection done before they purchased the house. Ms. Willard stated that they did not; they only had the appraisal done. She stated that the cost of the home wasn't significant and they did not need a mortgage. Ms. Clark then asked if they had done anything to the home since they purchased it other than the exterior and yard up keep. Ms. Willard stated that they had not and they do not have any intention of doing that. Ms. Clark asked if they had considered selling the home to someone who wanted to rehab it. Ms. Willard stated that they are concerned about some of the workmanship that goes into some of the rehabbed properties that have been done and once they sell the house they have no control over what they do with the property. She explained that they live very close to that property so they really have an interest in maintaining the property, but not the house. Ms. Hickson asked about the inspection done by Mr. Wayne Harrell. Mr. Rodman explained that Mr. Harrell did a minimum housing inspection and found that the house does not meet the minimum housing requirements, which means some things would have to be done before someone could move in. He explained that Mr. Harrell also looks at whether or not the house is an emanate danger or health hazard and if in his option the house is a hazard, then he condemns the house. Mr. Rodman stated that just because the house is being condemned, doesn't mean it can't be repaired if someone wants to spend the money to do that. He explained that in this situation Mr. Harrell did not feel the house was a health hazard, which needed to come down immediately. Ms. Willard and the Commission discussed the condition of the house further and Ms. Willard stated that she didn't feel anyone would want to take the house in its current condition. Ms. Willard stated that this is an old house, but it is not a historically significant house. She explained that she could not find any historical reference to this house. Mr. Creech talked about preserving the houses in the historic district and some of the houses that have been brought back and rehabbed. He stated that these old houses make the historic district and Washington what it is. Victoria Radar stated that if houses keep getting torn down, after 30 years Washington probably will not have a historic district.

The Chairman opened the floor.

Dr. Jim Coke came forward and was sworn in. Mr. Coke explained that when the Commission members came to visit the house many items were not looked at including the roof, attic, and the crawl space. He then explained in detail the hazardous condition of each of these elements of the house. He discussed the bat colony in the attic and the guano in the attic and elaborated on the foundation and general condition of the house. Mr. Coke stated that the Willards had received an estimate of $180,000 restoring the house to a "livable" condition, but Mr. Coke stated that he felt the cost would exceed that amount. In terms of economics, Mr. Coke stated that you would have to be insane to rehab the house. Mr. Coke went through the guidelines and pointed out the fact that the Commission cannot deny a demolition, but can delay it for up to 365 days. He stated that a demolition delay that accomplishes nothing will alienate local property owners who will view the delay as pointless. Mr. Coke stated that it was his conclusion that the founders of the guidelines did not envision a 365 day delay as being standard or automatic. He explained that they viewed any delay as being only long enough to ascertain if someone wanted to move the building and restore it. He stated that in his opinion no one will want this house. Mr. Coke then spoke about the contribution of this house to the character of the historic district and the need to reduce the delay period if the demolition is not approved. Mr. Coke stated that a delay of more than 2 months, in his opinion, would be a violation of the guidelines and it would subject the Willards to a liability of having a vacant house. Mr. Coke presented the Commission with photographs of the house's condition and explained what each photo showed. Mr. Coke stated that it was his opinion that the house is not salvageable and he is very much in support of tearing down the house.

Steve Radar came forward. He stated that in terms of the historic character of the house, it's not really a matter of whether something important in history happened at the house. He stated that what is important with a historic district is the whole and any time the district loses a house it detracts from the neighborhood as a whole. Mr. Radar stated that what is important here is maintaining the historic character of the district. He stated that the materials in this house cannot be found anymore and once you lose the quality materials they are gone. He stated that if a house is destroyed it does more harm to the district, then a restoration to a house. He again stated that once a house is destroyed it is gone forever and cannot be replaced. He stated that this house is shown as a contributing structure in the inventory of the historic district; therefore it is a historically significant house and should be preserved. Mr. Radar spoke about the condition of the house. He explained that there have been many houses that have been restored that were in this condition or even worse condition before they were rehabbed. Mr. Radar stated that it is just a matter of finding the right people who care about these houses and are willing to do the work. Mr. Radar further discussed the structure's condition and the fact that it is not that uncommon to find these conditions in historic homes in the district. He stated that he felt the worse message that the Commission could send is that it is ok for someone to buy a house in order to destroy it. Mr. Radar stated that if the Willards did not intend on restoring the house then they should have let someone purchase the home that might. He stated that he understood not wanting to have a cheap rental nearby, but there are ways to deal with that if need be. He then discussed the affect moving the house would have on the district. Mr. Radar spoke about his personal experience with historic homes and restoring them. He stated that he has never known of any delay less than a year, so he felt a 365 day delay was appropriate. He stated that he hoped there can be some cooperative work with the owners to save the structure. He urged the Commission to delay the demolition for 365 days and then take appropriate action in trying to work with the owners to find a way to restore the home.

Mr. Rodman came forward to define what is considered a contributing structure. He explained that an inventory was done back in 1997 that designated which structures are contributing and non-contributing. He stated that one of the factors has to do with the age of the structure and the one other factor is if the structure has been altered in any way that will affect the historical significance of the home. He explained that the actual structural condition of the home is not a factor. Mr. Rodman stated that this particular home is listed as a contributing structure in the inventory.

There being no others coming forward the floor was closed. The Commission discussed the request further.

Ms. Clark stated that the house is listed as a contributing structure and they are bound to look at it as a contributing structure. Baring that in mind she felt that the house should be saved. Ms. Clark stated that she is deeply disturbed that they have a situation where you can buy a house with the intention of tearing it down. She stated that she is worried about the precedence of them saying that it's ok to do that. Ms. Clark stated that she has been through the house and knows what it will take to rehab the property and she knows that it is not cheap, but she is aware of three other homes that were in this same condition, if not worse, and they have been restored beautifully. She explained that she is aware of the cost and how expensive it can be to restore these homes. She stated that her job as a Commission member is to look at a house and see if it can be saved and if it can be saved, to do whatever she can to save it. For that reason she stated that she could not in, good conscience, say that this home can be demolished.

Rebecca Clark made the following motion: I move that the Historic Preservation Commission delay a Certificate of Appropriateness to Anne and Matthew Willard to demolish the structure located at 324 East 2nd Street. The delay in the Certificate of Appropriateness shall not exceed 180 Days. This motion is based on the following findings of fact: the application is not congruous with the Historic Preservation Commission Design Guidelines, specifically Section 6.0 Demolition and Relocation. Ms. Clark stated that she would like to see this pursued with the Willards to see if something can be done to save this home. Judi Hickson seconded by motion. The motion was approved with a majority vote with Victoria Radar voting in opposition.

Ms. McKinley was sworn in. She stated that they have a garage/workshop in their rear yard. She presented photographs of the existing structure to the Commission. She explained that they are interested in including a second story on the new garage. She stated that they investigated the feasibility of doing a half story on the existing structure, but the existing structure is not strong enough to hold the second story addition. She explained that the existing structure has had extensive termite damage throughout the years and they have repaired the damage numerous times. She stated that the current foundation is not strong enough to bare a second story, so they are asking respectfully to take the existing structure down and construct a new structure in the exact same footprint in order for them to add a second story. Ms. McKinley explained the other damage and presented the Commission with a drawing of the proposed new structure. She stated that the workshop is not a contributing structure and that the structure was built in the 1960s/1970s. Rebecca Clark asked if they planned on painting the structure white to match the house. Ms. McKinley stated that they would be painting it to match the house. Ms. Clark then asked about the height of the structure in relation to the house. Ms. McKinley stated that it would be 22ft and their house is way higher. Mr. Rodman stated that he did check and it will not exceed the height of the principle structure. Ms. McKinley stated that they have received approval from both of their neighbors. Ms. McKinley stated that they would be using hardi-plank siding and shingles for the roof.

The Chairman opened the floor. David Clark, neighbor, came forward and spoke in favor of the request. There being no others coming forward the floor was closed.

Dominic Reising came forward and was sworn in. He explained that he would like to demolish a shed that is currently on his property. He explained that the shed is rotten and too large. He stated that the current shed is located on a low section of the yard, so it tends to flood. Mr. Reising stated that he would like to build a new smaller shed directly adjacent to the old shed. He then presented some plans of the proposed new shed. He explained that he has tried to give the new shed an even more historic character than what the old shed has. Ms. Clark asked if the new shed would be on a concrete slab. Mr. Reising stated that it would be. Ms. Clark then asked about the height of the new shed in comparison to the house. Mr. Reising stated that he did not know the exact height of the house, but it would be much shorter than the house and it will not be visible from the street. He stated that the new shed would be smaller than the existing shed.

The Chairman opened the floor.

Tom Molon, neighbor, came forward and was sworn in. Mr. Molon elaborated on the rotten condition of the existing shed and spoke in favor of Mr. Reising's request.

There being no others coming forward the floor was closed.

Mr. Litchfield stated that the building is in a irreparable condition. He stated that all the windows are boarded up and the building is an eye sore. Ms. Hickson asked if he had any plans to put something else on the site once the building is removed. Mr. Litchfield stated that he did have some plans to put something there, but didn't feel he needed to discuss that at this point. Ms. Hickson asked about the adjoining house. Mr. Litchfield stated that he also owned the house adjacent to this building.

The Chairman opened the floor. Steve Radar came forward and spoke in favor of removing the structure. There being no others coming forward the floor was closed.

Mr. Rodman came forward and presented the request. He explained that the City has received a public access grant from Coastal Area Management to build some waterfront restrooms and boating facilities. He explained that once the grant was received the community got together and thought it would be nice to construct a replica of the old Pamlico Point Lighthouse to house the facilities. He explained that it would be at the western end of the promenade approximately where the flag pole currently is located. Mr. Rodman stated that the tree would stay and there would not be any trees removed. Ms. Hickson asked about the windows on the ground floor. Mr. Rodman pointed out the small windows and stated that they were basically for light. He explained that the State did not want them to have very many windows on the structure. The Commission discussed the request further. Mr. Rodman stated that the office on the second floor would not be open to the public, so it would not require ADA handicap accessibility. Ms. Hickson expressed her concern with having the dock master on the second floor of the structure and their reaction time in case of an emergency.

Rebecca Clark made the following motion.
